An Evolution in Nutrition.

When the Vemma formula came to the market, it was a blend of vitamins, plant-based essential minerals, mangosteen pericarp, green tea and aloe vera.

The NEW European formula incorporates insights from some of the latest research in the field of nutritional science – the result of close collaboration between Dr Yibing Wang's team at Vemma USA and internationally acclaimed European scientist Robert Verkerk PhD. Together, they developed Vemma Premium to ensure Europeans can obtain a 100% EU-compliant, high-bioavailability liquid nutrition program formulated to meet their every-day needs.

Did you know?

That the new Vemma Premium delivers a potent blend of botanicals, 13 vitamins, 7 key minerals, and 72 super-absorbable ionic trace and ultra-trace minerals, specifically designed to meet the needs of 21st century Europeans? If you're looking for a reliable formula to help you boost your vitality naturally, look no further!

More vitamins and minerals!

The nutritional needs of modern Europeans are complex and changing. In spite of government efforts to promote healthy eating and minimum daily requirements, most Europeans just aren't getting sufficient life-enhancing vitamins and minerals – such as magnesium for energy and muscle function, and zinc and selenium for a healthy immune system. If you want to radiate energy and vitality, look and feel good while living life to the maximum, new Vemma Premium is the liquid nutrition formula to help you do it! It provides a POWERFUL and SYNERGISTIC blend of the key vitamins, minerals, trace elements, electrolytes and botanicals that Europeans need to help support optimal health and vitality. Vemma Premium incorporates some of the latest nutraceutical science available – a formula you and your family can depend on!

Why more Botanicals?

A number of well-publicized scientific studies have shown that vitamins and minerals alone provide limited antioxidant benefits, especially the synthetic kind found in pharmacies and supermarkets. On the other hand, botanicals derived from fresh fruits and vegetables demonstrated powerful and lasting antioxidant protection. That's why we combined some of the most effective, health-promoting botanicals available in the new Vemma Premium – carefully balanced and formulated for maximum synergy. From the mangosteen fruit and the anthocyanin-rich whole, sour Montmorency cherry extract, to the resveratrol-containing grape skin extract and young broccoli sprout extract, rich in the sulforaphane that makes brassica vegetables so good for us – the all-new Vemma Premium deserves a closer look!
